Contemporary Mortise & Tenon Door Notes

1) Pricing	See Section B9 of the Wholesale Pricing Catalog .
2) Grain Direction	Arrows (←→) shown indicate standard grain direction. Grain direction may be specified at NO additional cost.
3) Mortise & Tenon	Allows for center panel expansion and contraction.
4) Profiles	Available with the SR116 / PR314-06 or SR149 / PR339-04 profile combinations. The D21 Outside Edge matches the SR116 and the D32 or D51 match the SR149 .
5) Styles 1025 & 1125 (See above illustrations)	Bottom Rail dimension will vary depending on the height; the remaining stiles and rails will be 2¼" wide. When ordering stile & rail sizes other than 2¼" wide, plank sizes may be compromised requiring custom configuration. Additional charges may apply to customize configuration.
6) Styles 2510, 2511, 2515 (See above illustrations)	Left and right stile dimensions will vary depending on the overall width of door. The top and bottom rails will be 2¼" wide. When ordering stile sizes other than noted in the illustration above , plank sizes may be compromised requiring custom configuration. Additional charges may apply to customize configuration. Please check hinge bore placement compatibility when increasing the width of top and bottom rails.
